MOULDINGS WITH IMPACT

Staff member Danny admiring Latham Construction's installation work

The first stage of three is near completion on this spectacular Palpung Buddhist Temple based in Alfriston, Auckland.

The owners insisted the temple was built with high quality materials and manufacturing techniques, ensuring the temple will be enjoyed by many future generations. Accumen Shapes were the natural choice for manufacturing the complex lightweight decorative ShapeCrete® window and door mouldings.

Latham Construction in partnership with Accumen Shapes developed the innovative fixing system for the large eyebrows which weighed in at approximately 130kgs each! It just goes to show that no decorative moulding job is too big or too small for the team at Accumen Shapes.

The temple is expected to be fully completed within the next two years and eventually open for public viewing.
