“Defined by simplicity and possibility, the design created for Gessi interprets a uniquely American ethos for modern fixtures. Gessi’s strength in technical know-how and keen understanding of craftsmanship, ensured that the key design characters were expressed throughout the collection.”

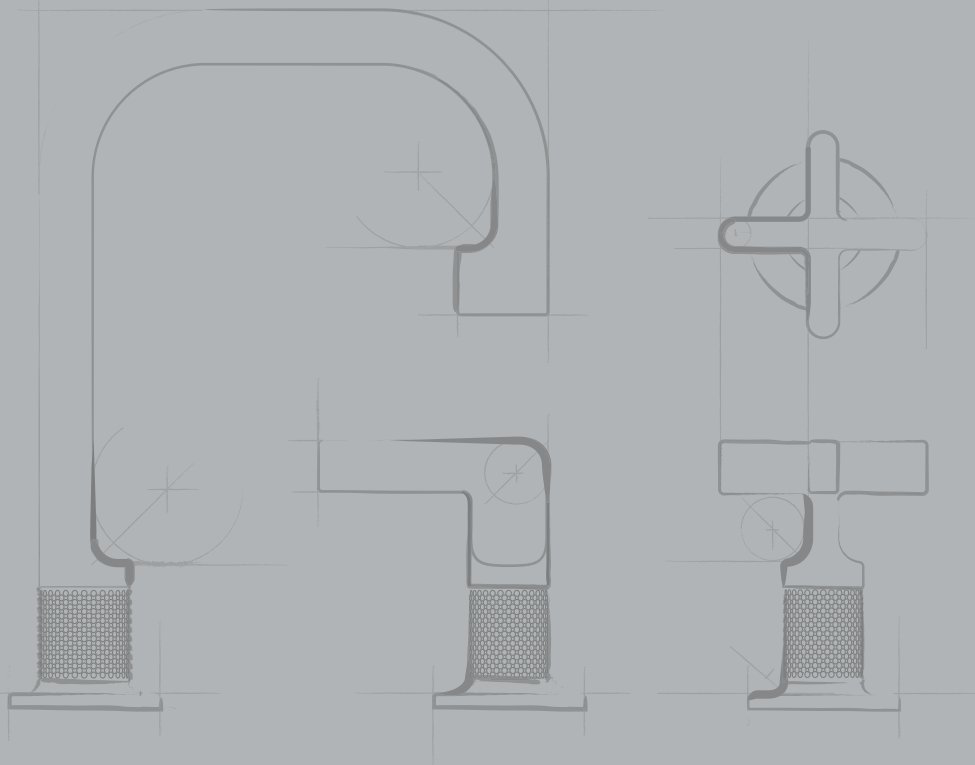

David Rockwell

With global offices to support a far-reaching vision, Rockwell Group is an interdisciplinary firm that emphasizes innovation and thought leadership in every project. Founded in 1984 by David Rockwell, FAIA, the Group create all over the world extraordinary experiences and built environments that seamlessly integrate interactive technology, finely crafted objects and design.

The firm's projects include Nobu restaurants and hotels worldwide; W Hotels (New York, Paris, Singapore, Madrid, Suzhou, and more); TED Theater (Vancouver, BC); NeueHouse (New York and Los Angeles); and set designs for numerous Broadway productions including Lobby Hero, Kinky Boots, Hairspray, and She Loves Me, for which David Rockwell won a 2016 Tony Award for Best Scenic Design.

ROCKWELL GROUP

The world is a stage

David Rockwell entered the world of architecture after having first fallen in love with live performance and theater, and this passion is what fuels and informs all of the firm's projects. Theater is—in microcosm—design as a social experience, a means of communication, and a collaborative process that results in a universe that is limited only by the stretches of imagination. Both theater and architecture communicate ideas through an experience, and that is what we at Rockwell Group remain focused on for each and every project, from a restaurant to a new product.

“Theater has taught me that every project offers an opportunity to invent a new language.”

Inciso for Gessi

From surface and floor coverings to lighting and furniture, the firm celebrates product design as a natural extension of its immersive environments.

Drawing on an encyclopedic knowledge of design, Rockwell Group creates flexible, transformable products that support new ways of living, working, and communicating.

The collaboration with Gessi on the firm's first-ever line of bath fittings and accessories was a thrilling challenge for David Rockwell. Defined by simplicity and possibility, the Inciso Collection weds modern style with heritage details and finishes that invite tactile discovery.

“The Inciso concept embodies the warm modern sensibility of American Design.”

INCISO

“Golden age” solidity in a contemporary look.

The most perceptive consumers are expressing the need for a return to authenticity, and a desire to surround themselves with products that exude a feeling of reliability, true depth, and quality. They want products perfected over a long time with a purposeful aesthetic that arouses emotions.

INCISO

To leave an impressive mark, typical of a global style leader, Gessi looked to the designer that had attained the most outstanding achievements in the application of warm-modern and elegantly industrial aesthetics in the design of interiors and objects, establishing a collaboration with architect David Rockwell and his award-winning firm Rockwell Group.

Gessi's goal was to conceive a unique line of products that could fully embody the emotions of the skillful specifics of old era brassware manufacturers while making it fresh and contemporary by infusing it with modern architectural taste and the most advanced metal processing technology.

A new aesthetic code for bathroom interiors.

Bringing a new visual language to the contemporary bath-scape, Inciso channels the honesty of traditional craftsmanship and the American spirit. The collection of faucets and accessories designed by David Rockwell for Gessi creates a new design language for the contemporary bathroom.

INCISO |

The formal gestures of early plumbing fixtures and the refined, architectural sensibility of modern metalwork inspired the distinguished profile. With sculpted contours paired with smooth surfaces and textured patterns, the collection achieves captivating allure in alignment with Gessi's philosophy, which is to enrich intimate living spaces with beautiful, well-made objects that remain reliably functional.

The line's clean modern forms is consistent with the tradition of Gessi, and is highly customizable, fully flexible, suitable for many environments—both residential and hospitality.

Texture Look

The creative collaboration between Gessi and David Rockwell in the research for an aesthetic for bathroom interior design that would embody old age solidity in a contemporary look, resulted in the amazing Inciso Collection of bath fittings and accessories.

La ricerca di una estetica per l'arredo del bagno che evocasse antica solidità in un look contemporaneo, condotta dall'architetto David Rockwell e il suo pluripremiato Studio, The Rockwell Group, ha portato alla creazione di Inciso, una splendida Collezione di rubinetteria e accessori.

INCISO ACCESSORIES

Subtle and elegant industrial details

The Inciso Collection marks Gessi's first collection by an American designer. David Rockwell is known for his dramatic designs, which stress on pleasurable and spectacular. After a painstaking research, the eclectic inventor wanted to leave "incised" his unmistakable sign in Gessi's history of designs and in the world of style and wellness of the brand.

INCISO ACCESSORIES

The bathroom interior fit with the Inciso Collection was not intended to feel unapproachably minimal, but rather calmly chic and warmly inviting. The goal was to create a design that be both timeless and timely.

David Rockwell infused Inciso with his signature warm, modern and undetached allure, enriching the Line with subtle and elegant industrial details.
