the complete design solution.

Offering a unique full-service experience for discerning clients, Studiojos in collaboration with FREE-MAN have developed a one of a kind complete design solution tailored to luxury projects including private residences, luxury hotels, boutique property developments, superyachts and private jets. Combining two leading design powerhouses in their prospective fields, clients are guaranteed a rich knowledge and experience in both the interior architectural and build-stage and also the interior styling and completion stage to maximise efficiency, with dedicated teams for each segment of a project.

Design Director and founder Joss Knight of Studiojos has significant experience in designing and delivering high-end projects across a range of residential, multi residential, commercial and hotel / hospitality sectors. His experience has proven invaluable in managing large-scale design and construction projects with great success in delivering the finest level of detailed design.

Managing Director Jack Freeman of FREE-MAN offers a global reach like no other to develop and curate a fully-resolved interior design project unique to its occupier. With an international concierge team of interior designers and stylists, product engineers, custom manufacturing workshops and long-standing partnerships with some of the world's finest craftsmen and retailers, FREE-MAN are able to guarantee significant cost savings as well as provide direct access to limited edition, bespoke product around the globe, seamless installation and deliver a dedicated after-care service.

STUDIOJOS

Interior Architecture & Project Management

Studiojos is a multi-disciplinary design practice with an expertise and focus on creating bespoke luxury one of a kind projects internationally. With a collaborative approach and focus on cohesive timeless design at its core, the studio is grounded by a rigour of simplicity and modest character. The aesthetic of Studiojos merges a strong sense of scale, form and material with an eclectic and unique story, brought to life by our founder Joss Knight and curated studio team.

The immense knowledge base of the team, with individual interests, creates adaptability and flexibility matched with new-age thinking and ideas. Offering a dedicated focus on exclusive projects each year, the understated boutique studio is dedicated to creating finely detailed spaces built to outlast changing fashions and be calming sanctuaries for our discerning clients.
