

Distinctly Different

ThomasArcher

Every home we build starts with you in mind

At Thomas Archer, our philosophy is to listen and collaborate with our clients. We partner with you to gain insight into the way you live, using your vision as the inspiration behind the homes we design and build. Our team seamlessly come together to plan and create liveable environments that reflect your lifestyle and personality, resulting in homes that are as distinct and as unique as you.

Whether we are pushing the boundaries on an incredible Landmark custom design or modifying one from our architecturally pre-designed Expressions Series; you can rest assured that you are building with a partner who will deliver a stunning home that is beautiful and of exceptional quality.

An architectural edge

Our home designs capture the essence of the stylish and contemporary Australian lifestyle. Each inspired floorplan celebrates a strong sense of connectivity between private spaces and shared living areas. With this as a base, we inject nuances that reflect how you like to live.

From practical features such as plentiful storage to beautiful large windows for abundant natural light, every element enhances the transition from room to room. Architectural elements, textures and finishes flow from the external façade to the interiors, creating a seamless indoor-outdoor lifestyle resulting in a flow that feels very natural.

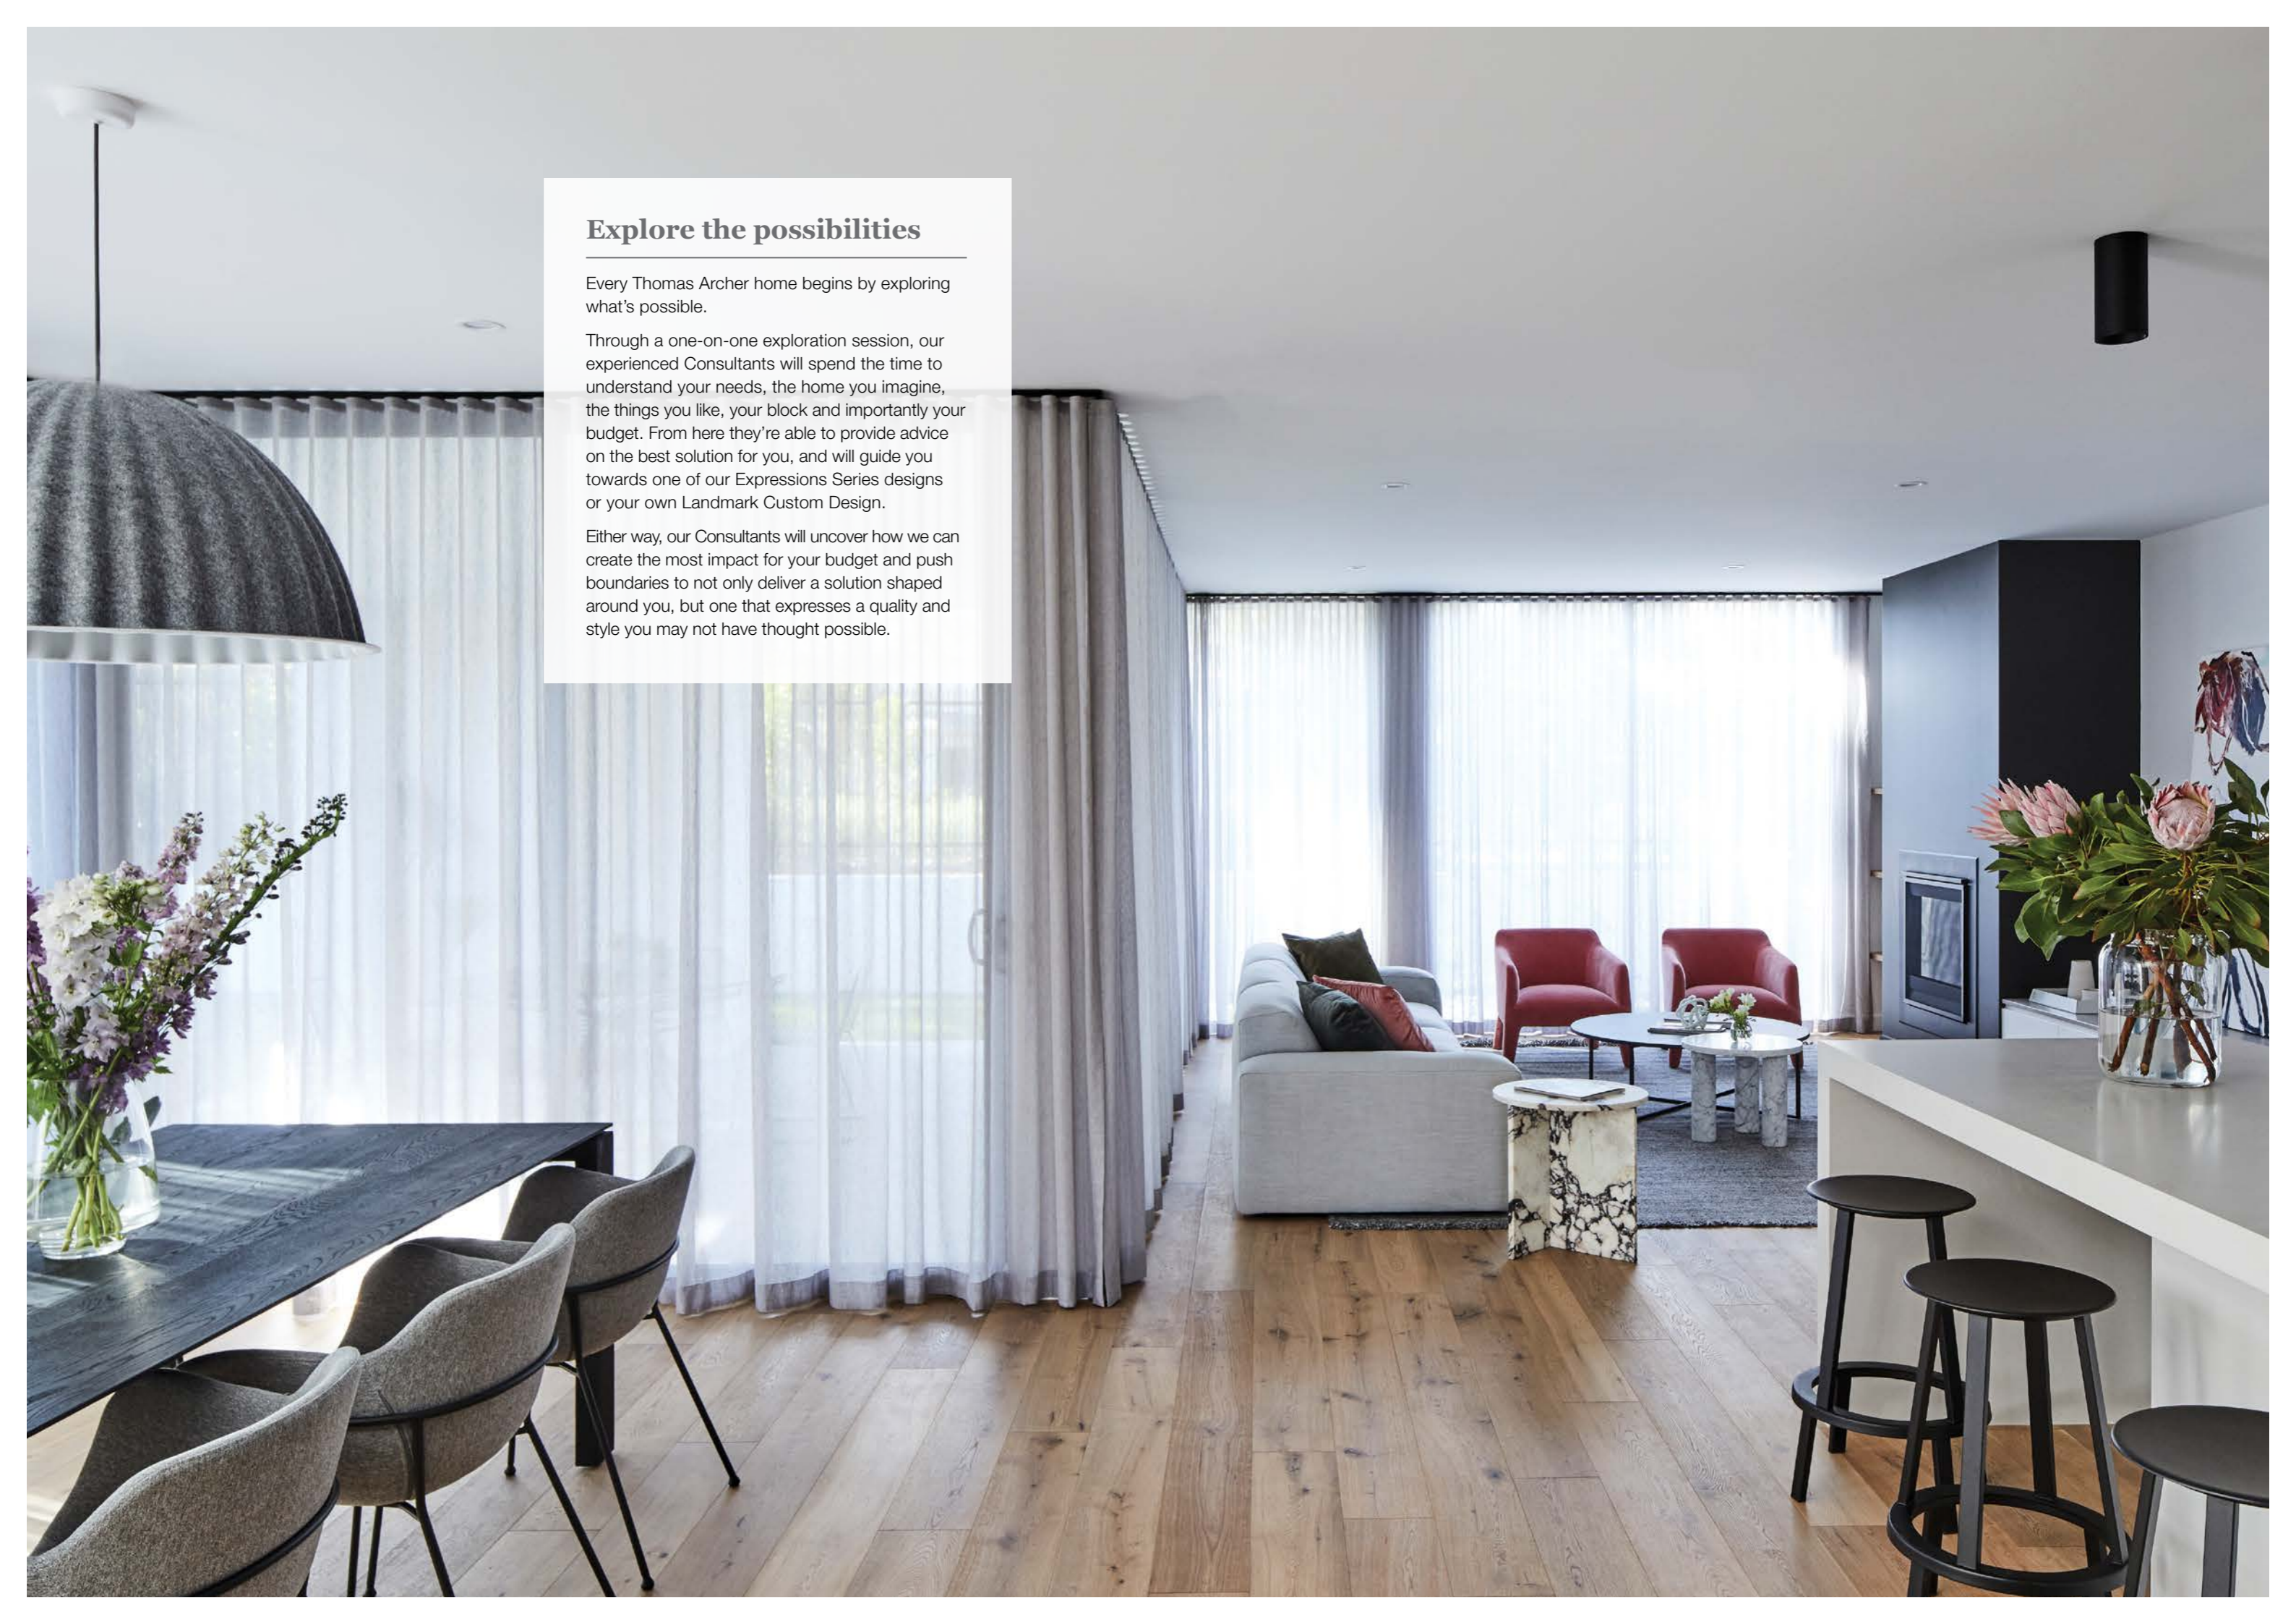

Explore the possibilities

Every Thomas Archer home begins by exploring what's possible.

Through a one-on-one exploration session, our experienced Consultants will spend the time to understand your needs, the home you imagine, the things you like, your block and importantly your budget. From here they're able to provide advice on the best solution for you, and will guide you towards one of our Expressions Series designs or your own Landmark Custom Design.

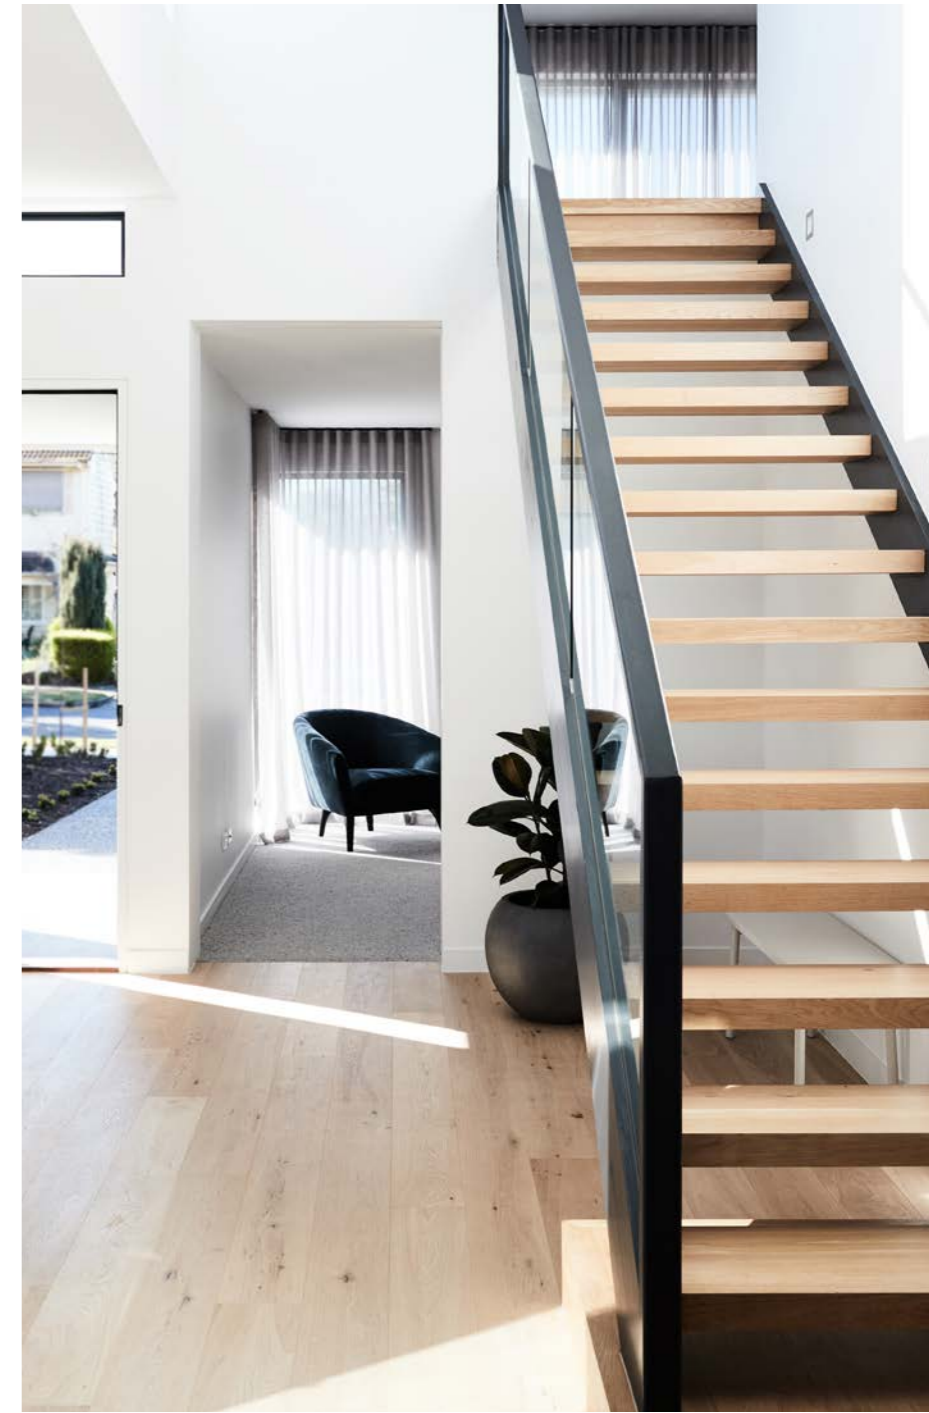

Either way, our Consultants will uncover how we can create the most impact for your budget and push boundaries to not only deliver a solution shaped around you, but one that expresses a quality and style you may not have thought possible.

Our Expressions Series

Our award winning Expressions Series offers accessibility to an affordable range of beautiful, modern and architecturally pre-designed homes, which can be further modified to uniquely suit your lifestyle.

Imagined for the way you want to live, each one of these designs is a limited edition and offer unparalleled choice, quality and a home that ultimately will be tailored to suit your family.

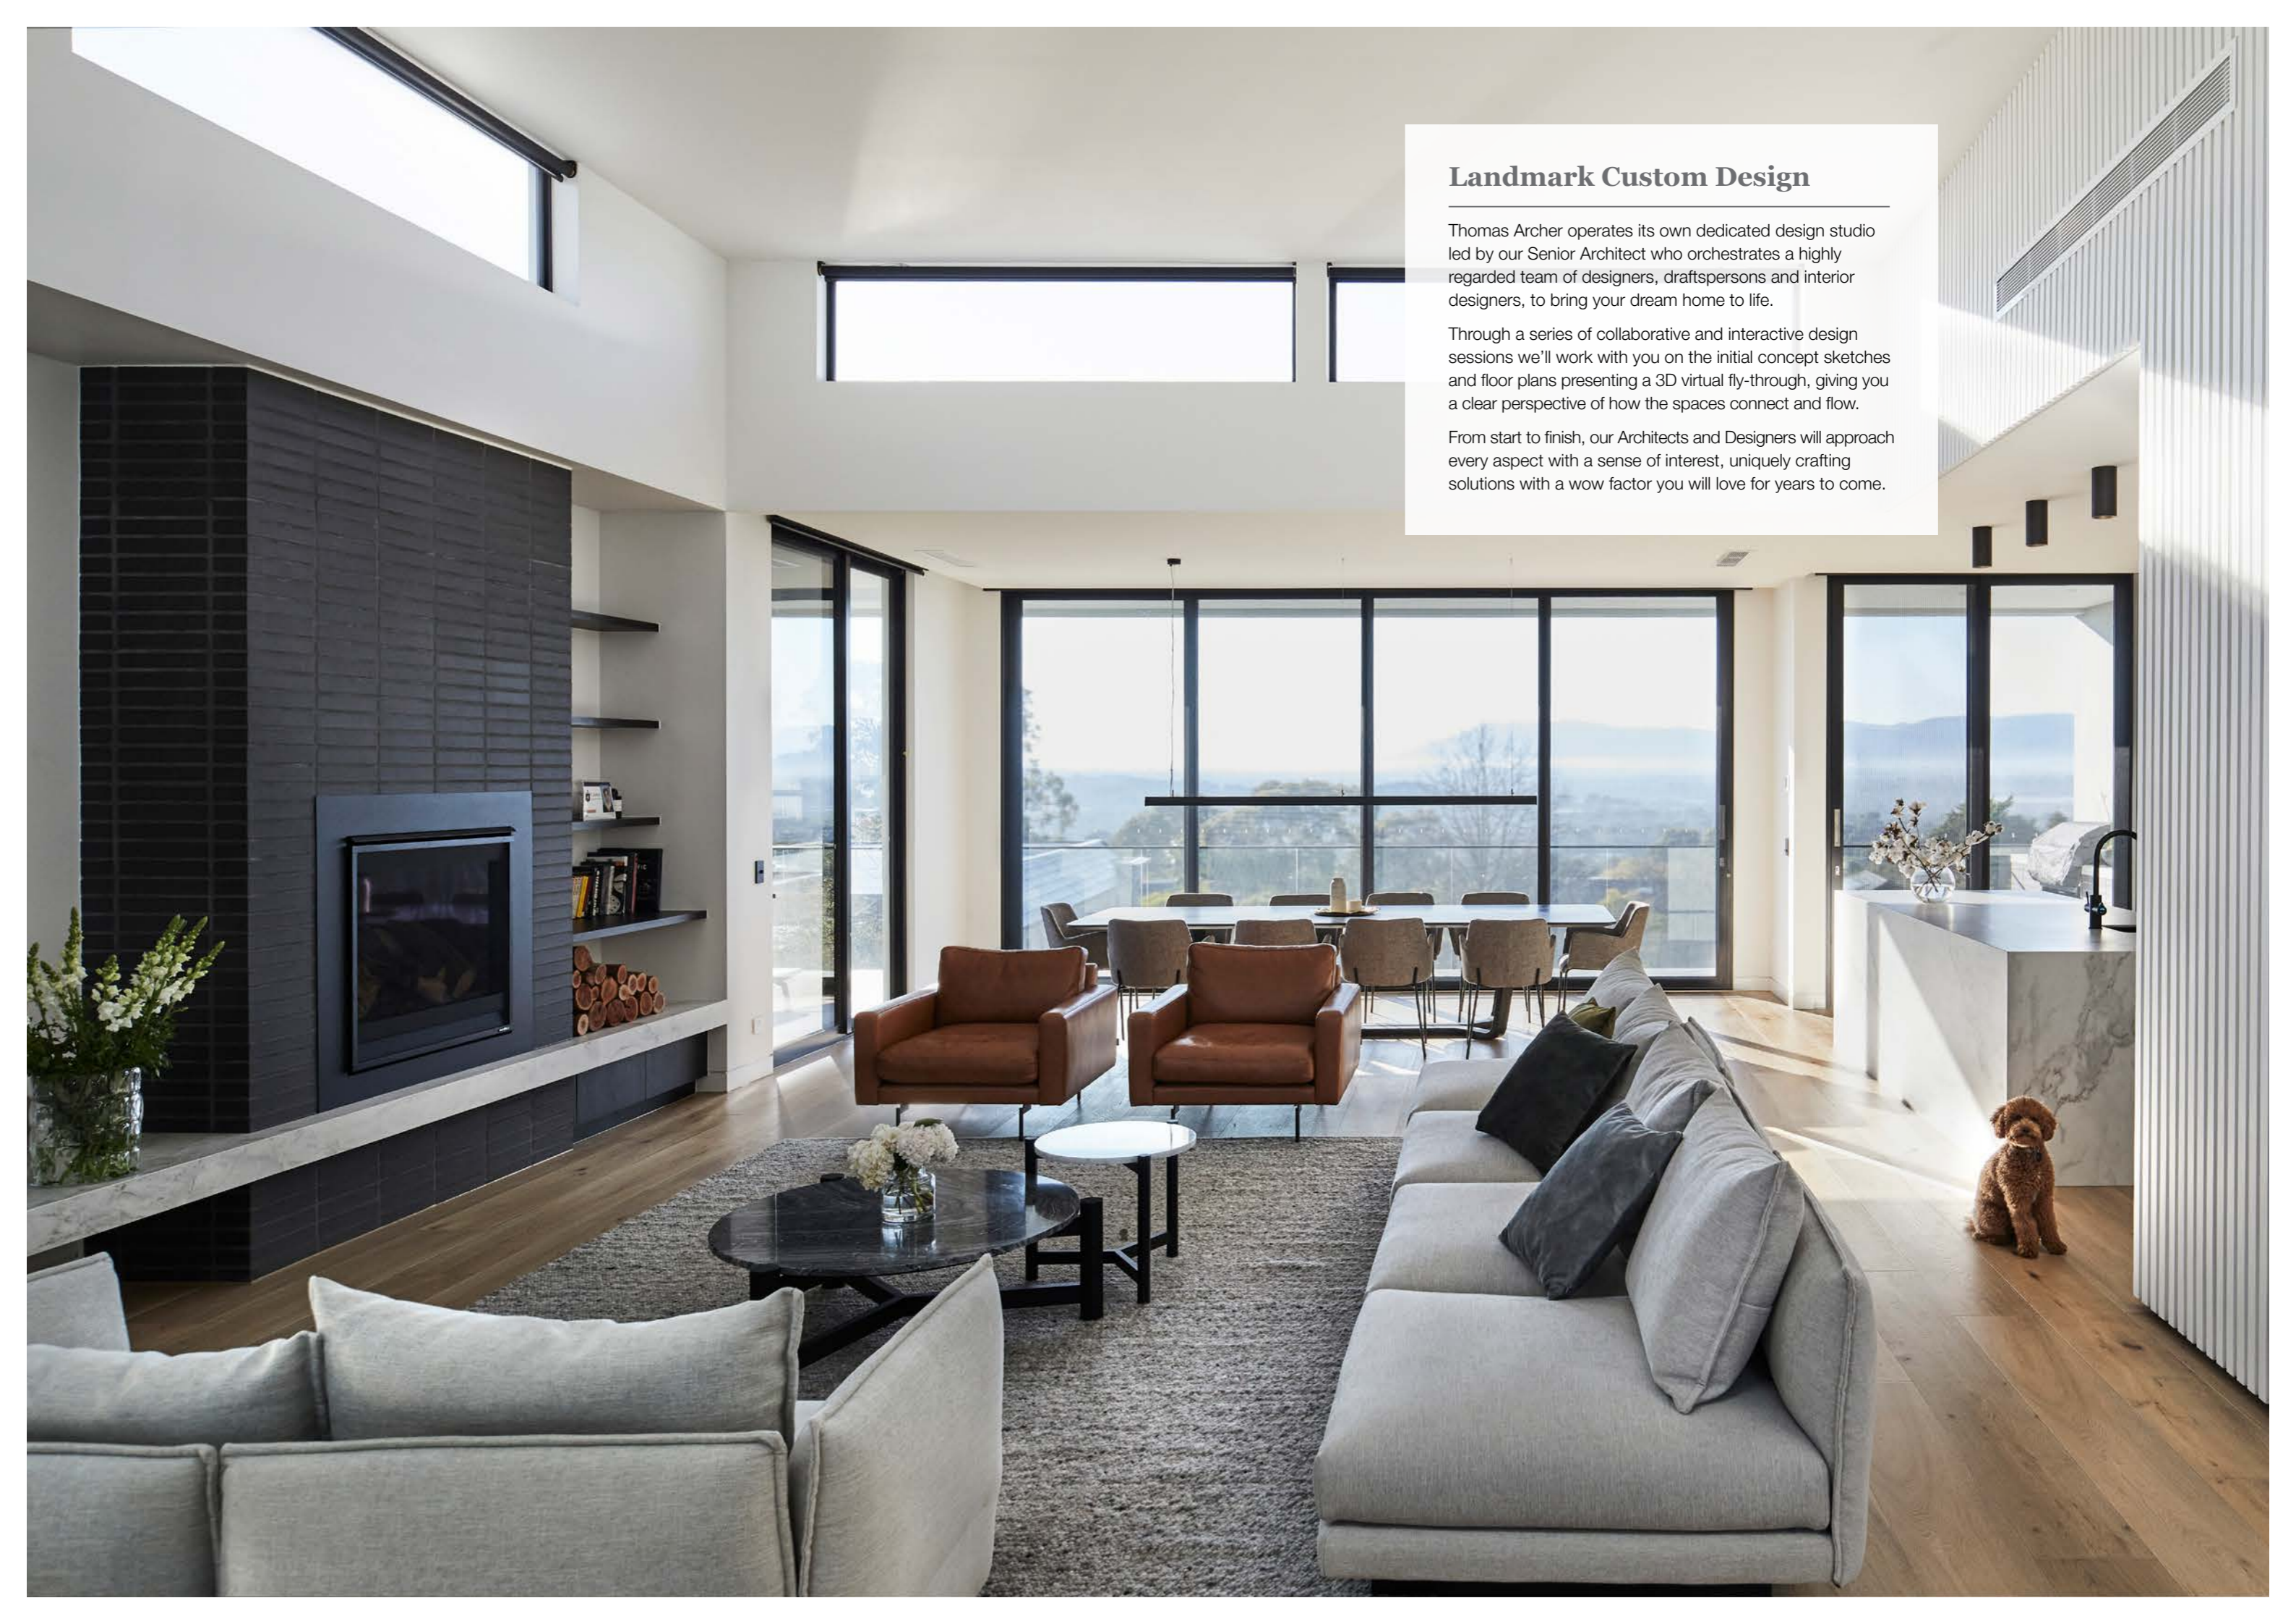

Landmark Custom Design

Thomas Archer operates its own dedicated design studio led by our Senior Architect who orchestrates a highly regarded team of designers, draftspersons and interior designers, to bring your dream home to life.

Through a series of collaborative and interactive design sessions we'll work with you on the initial concept sketches and floor plans presenting a 3D virtual fly-through, giving you a clear perspective of how the spaces connect and flow.

From start to finish, our Architects and Designers will approach every aspect with a sense of interest, uniquely crafting solutions with a wow factor you will love for years to come.

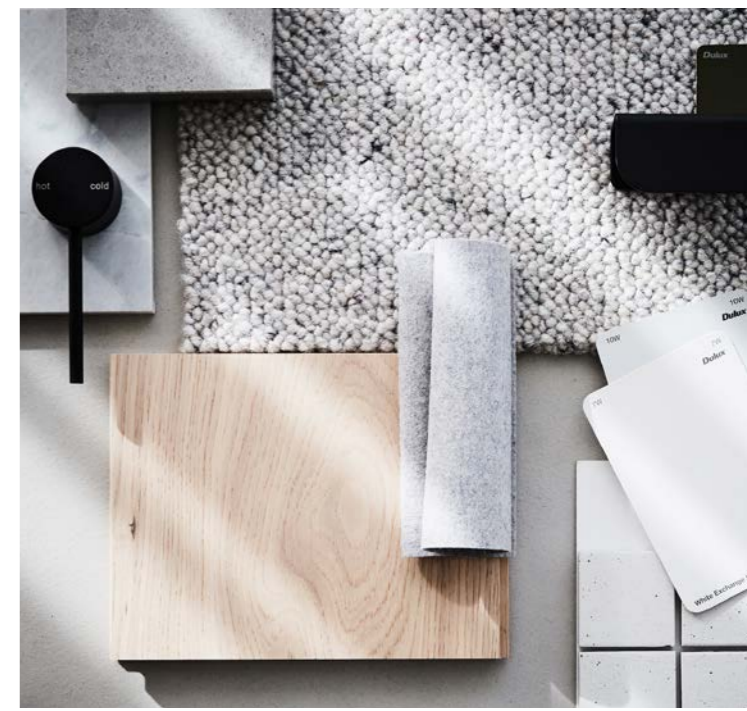

Turning your vision into reality

Our dedicated Style Studio is where the vision of our client's home becomes a reality.

Through an interactive and immersive experience, our Style Studio provides you the opportunity to touch, feel and see all the fixtures, fittings and finishes you can choose for your home. And all within an inspiring space that brings to life the possibilities.

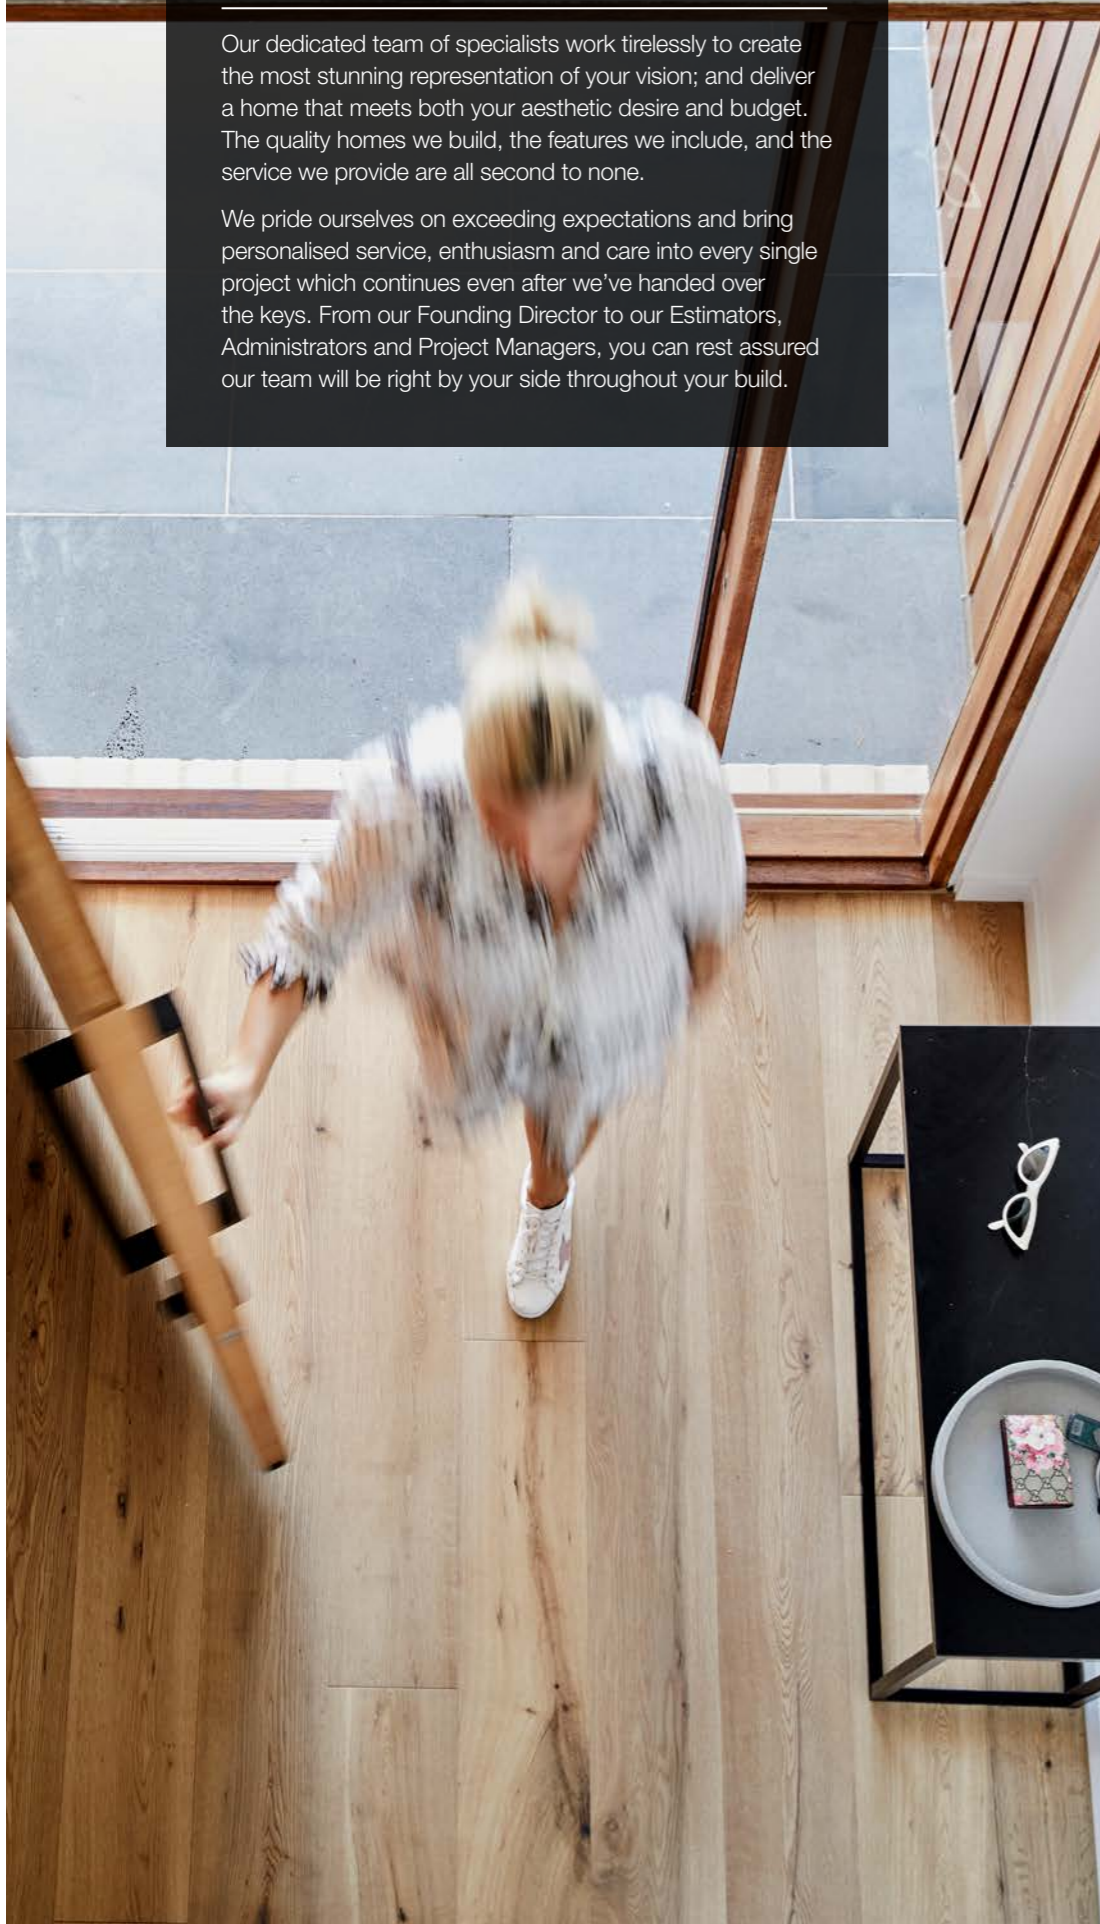

Led by our highly regarded team of Designers, careful consideration is given to the materials palette of each home and at the forefront of our designs, ensuring your home makes a strong architectural statement.

You are always our priority

Our dedicated team of specialists work tirelessly to create the most stunning representation of your vision; and deliver a home that meets both your aesthetic desire and budget. The quality homes we build, the features we include, and the service we provide are all second to none.

We pride ourselves on exceeding expectations and bring personalised service, enthusiasm and care into every single project which continues even after we've handed over the keys. From our Founding Director to our Estimators, Administrators and Project Managers, you can rest assured our team will be right by your side throughout your build.

A personal touch

Our process and service philosophy are all designed around you. We know it's not just the big things but the small things matter too. At Thomas Archer, we provide unparalleled personalised service, so you can enjoy peace of mind from start to finish.
