MEET JOANNE RICHARDSON

“Supporting local industries and making environmentally conscious choices are principles I integrate into both my business and everyday life.”

W ith a background in Design, Finance, and Renovation, my career has always been a balance between creativity and strategy

As the owner of Watson Commercial, I've had the privilege of working on projects that blend innovation with functionality, ensuring every space serves its purpose effectively while maintaining aesthetic appeal.

Beyond business, my personal passions fuel my work. I have a deep appreciation for Australian-made products and a strong belief in sustainability—not just as a buzzword, but as a responsibility. Supporting local industries and making environmentally conscious choices are principles I integrate into both my business and everyday life.

When I'm not working, you'll likely find me renovating, gardening, hiking, or on the court playing netball or basketball.

These hobbies keep me grounded, offering a mix of creativity, teamwork, and connection to nature.

Whether it's crafting a well-designed space, supporting local industries, or striving for a more sustainable future, my journey is driven by a simple yet powerful principle: do the right thing—for people, for business, and for the planet.

PENDANT

LIGHTING

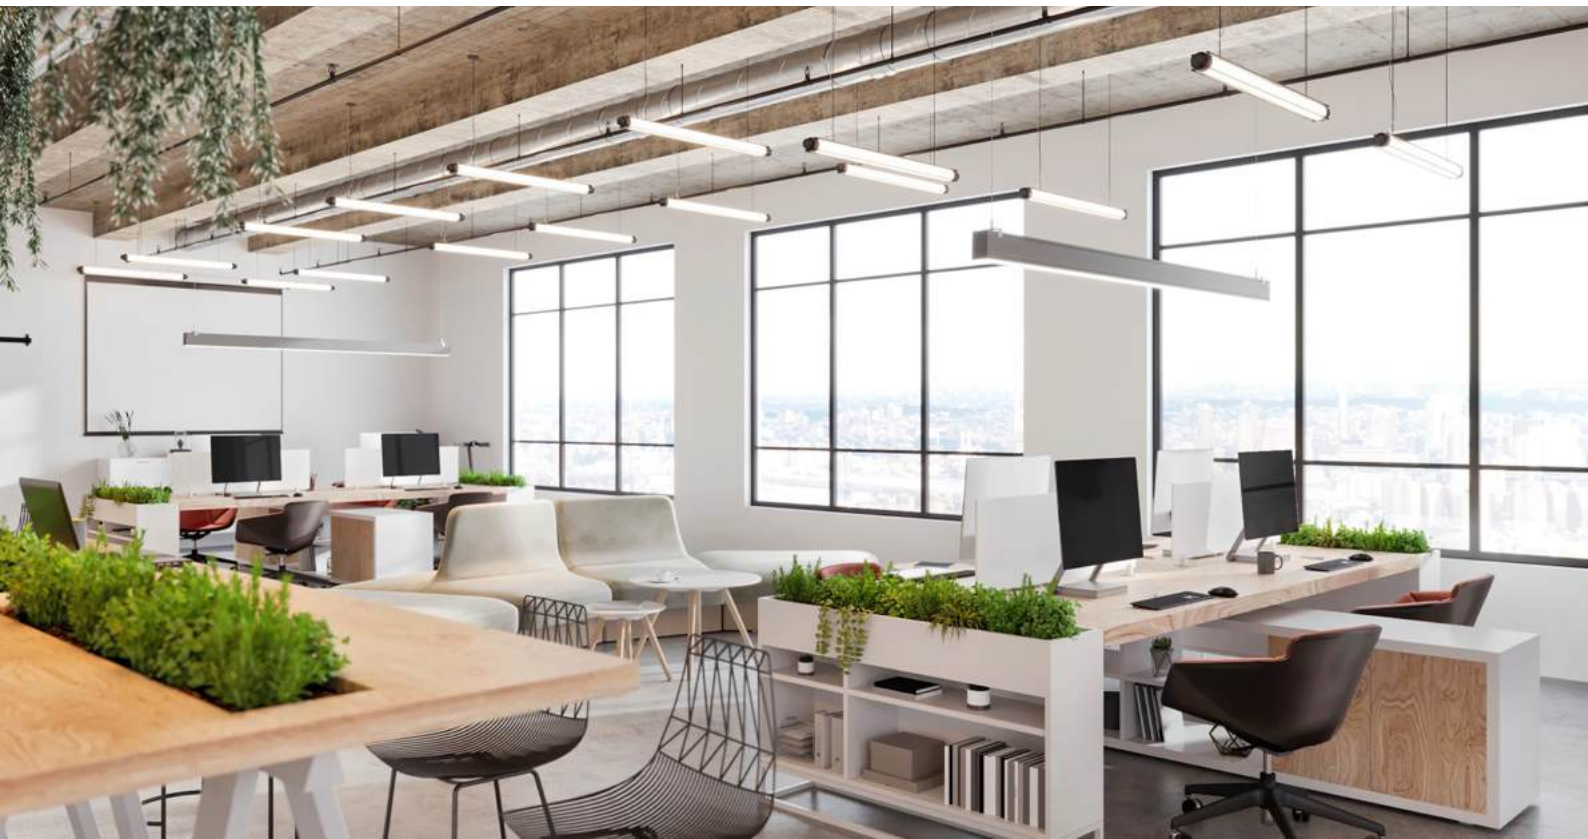

Commercial office lighting plays a crucial role in productivity, aesthetics, and energy efficiency.

Designed to provide efficient, long-lasting illumination for workplaces, retail spaces, industrial settings, and public buildings.

FEATURE LIGHTING

Feature lighting is designed to stand out – not just to light a space, but to create a visual focal point, highlight important elements, or set the mood. It's both functional and decorative.

OFFICE LIGHTING

Office lighting is one of the most important factors for workplace comfort, productivity, and health.

The goal is to create lighting that supports concentration, reduces eye strain, and enhances the overall atmosphere of the office.

ACOUSTICS

CEILING
PENDANTS

SCREENS & PANELS

Commercial acoustics are used to control and manage sound in commercial spaces. The benefits of Acoustic products include:

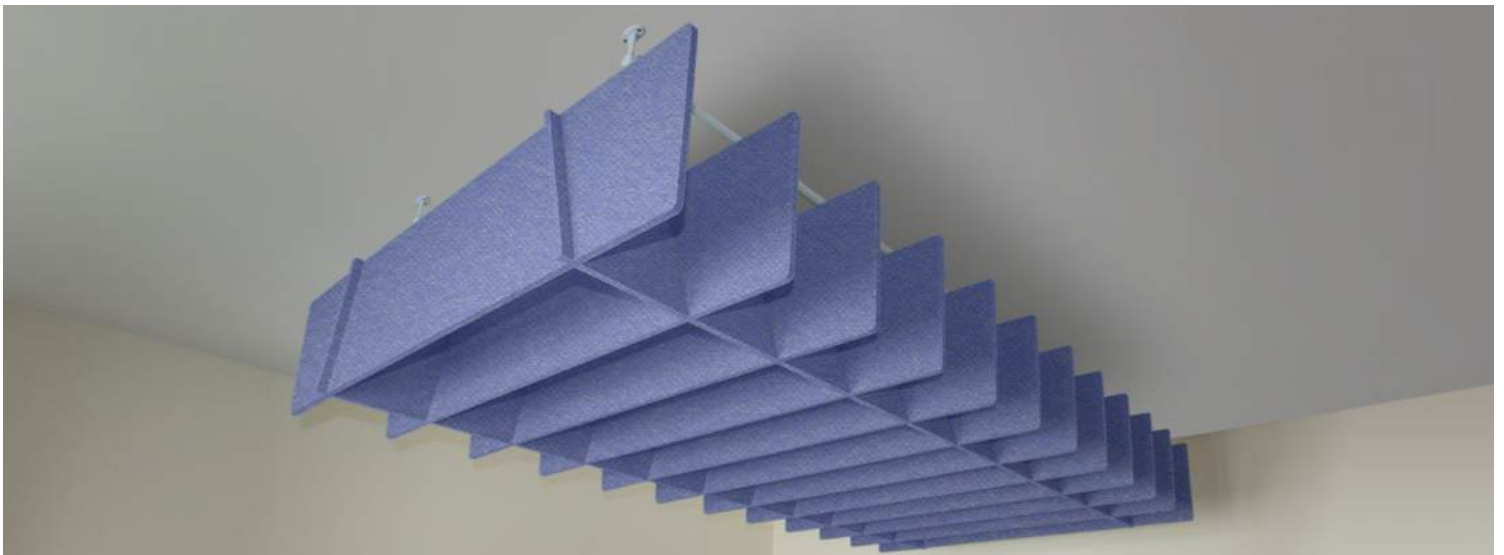

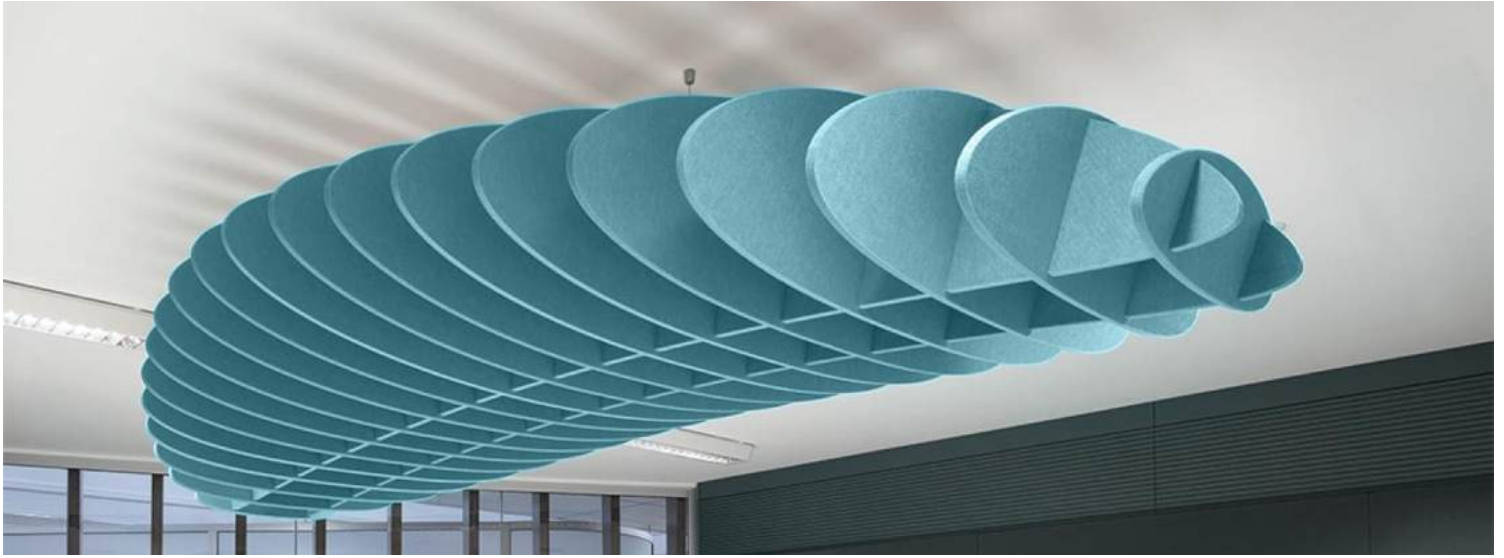

- Noise Reduction
- Speech Privacy
- Sound Quality Improvement
- Compliance with Regulations
- Comfort and Productivity

WALL ACOUSTIC SOLUTIONS

Wall acoustic solutions are all about improving how sound behaves inside a room – reducing echo, controlling noise levels, and sometimes even blocking sound from moving between spaces.

CEILING ACOUSTIC SOLUTIONS

Ceiling acoustic solutions are designed to control sound by either absorbing noise (reducing echoes and reverberation) or blocking noise (preventing it from travelling between spaces).

SCREENS SOLUTIONS

Acoustic screens are movable or fixed partitions designed to reduce noise, improve speech privacy, and create quieter zones within a larger space.

CICADA SCREEN

An economical, wrap screen designed for use with our height adjustable desks.
